

Designing for Modern Web

Ashton Chen 9IST1

Brainstorm 5 ideas..

- Fortnite Mechanics
- Indonesian Meals
- Indonesia
- Basketball tutorials
- How to learn the guitar as a beginner

Refine your idea

- Who: People who maybe are interested in Indonesia
- What: A website where people that are interested in Indonesia can learn
- Why: Wanting to show people how awesome Indonesia is?!
- How: When people go to Indonesia they will know the history and things about Indonesia

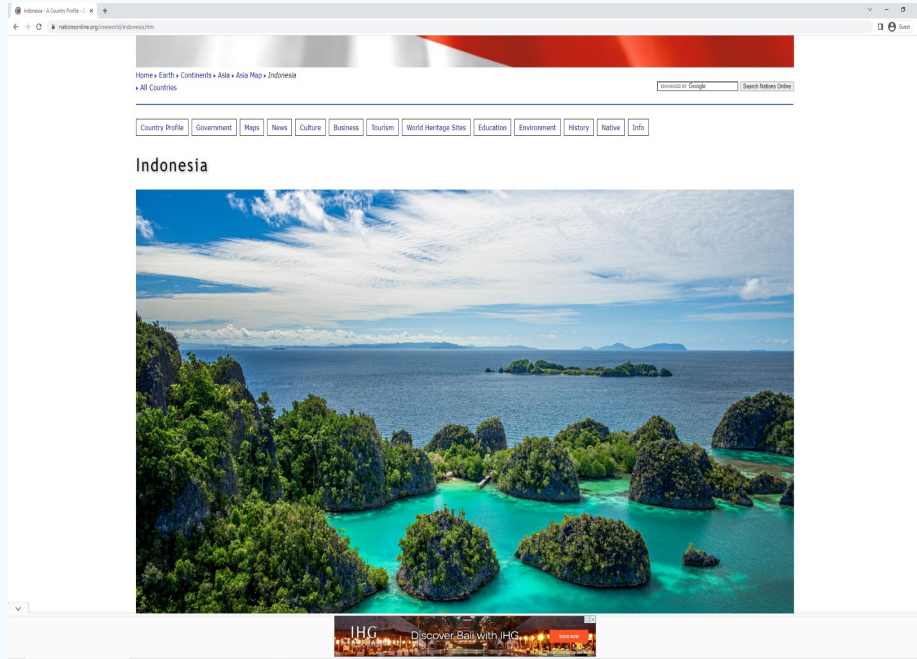

The statement of Intent

I intend to make my website user-friendly and easy- reading for all readers, regardless of their level of familiarity with technology. To achieve this, I will ensure that the website is easy to navigate, with clear and concise information presented in a visually appealing manner. Additionally, I will incorporate social media integration to encourage visitors to share their experiences and connect with others who share their interest in Indonesia.

My website will also feature a section for travel tips and advice, where visitors can find practical information about planning their trip to Indonesia. This section will include recommendations on the best time to visit, visa requirements, transportation options, and accommodation suggestions. By providing this information, visitors can plan their trip with confidence, knowing that they have access to reliable and up-to-date information. This website will also provide information such as the tourist attractions, beaches, volcanoes, cities, temples and islands

From visiting my website, people will not only gain a deeper understanding and appreciation of Indonesia's culture, but they will also be inspired to visit this beautiful country and explore its many wonders. Whether they are interested in the stunning natural landscapes, the vibrant cities, or the rich cultural heritage, my website will provide them with the resources and inspiration they need to plan the trip of a lifetime.

1. The design of the whole website is filled with buttons sending you to a whole different website made by them. There are different parts of the website and it gives lots of information. This website has the most modern design out of the other 2 I decided to pick.. The website does not only give information on Indonesia, the country I'm doing it is also showing information about other countries and continents if you want to.
2. I like the fact that the website is really simple as it is all organized. It is simple even for people who are new to the internet. This website has 10-13 buttons and each of them provides plenty of information. It is packed with information on the first page and on the other buttons when you press them, there is less information but it is precise information.
3. I will probably copy the fact where they organized it with buttons with various topics. And I'll try to fill my website with lots of topics. I'd like to copy that there will be many information on the first page and on the other slides/button webs there will be less information

1. For this design the website doesn't show as much information as the first website. It shows all the information straight on the first page. The website isn't too complex and is easy to read. Just like the first website I decided to choose, there are other information on other countries and continents as well. There are also lots of pictures so you can imagine what they are talking about.
2. I like how well it was organized but it doesn't have lots of information. There are lots of pictures and in my opinion I like it, you can imagine what they are trying to tell us based on the pictures. I don't like the fact it is all bunched up into one page, in my opinion if they made more slides/ button webs it could be more neat and simple to read.
3. I won't really copy much of this website except for how it has many pictures. I'd like to use the fact that they used many different pictures on each slides I will put many pictures with the information I give on the small website. Since they give more information than the other two websites i picked

1. This website does not have much information and doesn't have many additions other than the information given. It is more of a simple website with just bare information on it. It is almost the same as the second website I picked. It also shows all the information straight on the first page just like the second website. The website isn't too complex and is easy to read. There are not pictures like the second website I picked
2. I like the fact that they give plenty of information right off the bat. You do not need to scroll down a lot as all the information will be given with just one click. I do not like the fact that there are no pictures and the website seems boring.
3. This website does not really inspire me much. I'd like to be inspired by the first and second website since they look more complex and gave more information than this website design. I will probably copy the fact that you will instantly see information.
